

A Seductive Guide to Boudoir Lingerie

Seductions
Boudoir
Photography

What sexy shape are you?

We like to help by making suggestions for lingerie for certain body types. Keep in mind they are suggestions, you decide to bring. If it fits properly and makes you feel amazing then don't worry about the guide!

Tip

If you are unsure of your body shape please go to :
<http://bit.ly/BodyShapeGuide>
for a body shape calculator.

The Panty

Cheeky

A popular style that provides front coverage but leaves the cheeks exposed. A seductive favorite makes for killer booty shots. Even though it is more coverage than a thong or g-string it can portray more mystery and allure.

Best for: Apple, Pear and Hourglass

Bikini

A bikini type panty sits at the hip and fully covers the front and rear. These are ideal for clients who are concerned about coverage, but they don't flatter everyone.

Best for: Apple, Pear and Hourglass

G-String/Thong

A thong has minimal fabric in the back and a g-string has even less.

Best for: Slim/Slender with little to no curve

Tip

- G-strings and thongs are great to avoid panty lines but don't leave much to the imagination
- If you prefer thongs and g-strings make sure to get something with extra details.

High Waisted

A classic panty that can portray a bit of a vintage/retro feel. They are very high waist coverage, can be great for someone wanting to hide midriff. Some have built-in shapewear.

Best For: Anyone

Boy Shorts

Boy shorts are designed for comfort and coverage. They can be cute and teasing, not the best for booty images. They will work for someone wanting to be more conservative

Best for: Apple, Prea, Hourglass, especially a bubble bum.

Peek - A-Boo

A more trendy thing you'll find in the lingerie store these days. Either they will expose front or back or both. We still like to leave something to the imagination but do enjoy shooting these fun undies.

Best for: The Bold

The Bra

Push-Up

The push-up bra will increase the size and cleavage of your breast. This bra is not flattering for everyone. Small chested women are better with more support than padding. If you are a large chested we don't recommend push up bra, they will appear too large and lead to extra skin near the armpits.

Sometimes less padding can be better because your natural breast is resting on top padding can make your breast look "droopy".

Best For: Triangle, Pear Shape (Small to Mid Busts)

Demi Cup/Balconette

A support bra that only covers the bottom part of the breast to offer more cleavage. They achieve a look similar to a push-up bra but use support and lift working with what you have naturally.

One thing to keep in mind this bra style it is not full coverage and nipple may be partially exposed. Depends on your comfort level, it is at your own discretion.

Best For: Smaller busts

Open Balconette/Shelf

An Open Balconette also know as a shelf bra is a support system but leave breast fully exposed.

Best For: Triangle, Pear (Smaller busts)

T-Shirt Bra

These bras are typically made with a smoother exterior that is great for a smooth look under t-shirts. Details and textures photograph better and leave more eye candy. Avoid plain bras unless it suits your personality.

Best For Triangle, Pear

Strapless

A bra without straps. Not the best idea for boudoir but it does work sometimes - usually on smaller chested women.

Best For: Triangle, Pear (Smaller busts)

The Bra & Panty Set

Bra & Panties are a very popular choice among most women.

The everyday T-shirt bra is comfortable for day-to-day wear, but maybe not the best for the boudoir shoot. Unless it's covered in details or lace!

Also be mindful if you are concerned about your midsection you may want to find something more discreet.

- Bras make sure cups fit properly to avoid cup spillage or a loose cup
- Undies should fit just right not too small and not baggy

The Corset or Bustier

Bustier

Bustiers have a built-in bra and can be shorter than a corset, ending just above or right above the waistline and not meant to reach the hips.

Less confining than a corset, has stretchy panels and soft plastic boning.

Best for: Anyone

Corset

Corsets are beautiful to achieve an hourglass figure and an upright posture and chest lift. They are not the best for movement.

Best For Middriff Concerns

Hybrid Style

A combo between a Bustier and Corset. They can be very stylish and flattering. Make sure they have the right cup support and fit properly.

Best for: everyone

Tips

- If you are wanting to hide your midriff you may want to pair with a high waist panty to avoid any skin between the two pieces.
- Women with Large chest we something with cups to give you that support.

Teddy & Body Suit

A teddy is similar to a bathing suit and bodysuit but is more sheer and sexy. They are flattering on most women and are available in a variety of styles and textured fabrics.

Best for: Hourglass but work for everyone

Slips & Baby Dolls

We like slips and baby dolls as long as they are straight fitting, flat to the body and don't flare out from your bust. It tends to make a bell shape and make you appear larger than you are.

Best For: Anyone, Inverted Pear, Triangle Shape or a Petite

The Stockings & Hosiery

Make sure they are a bit loose and not too tight to be able to put on and take off effortlessly!

We have seen some interesting sexy hosiery lately if you plan on bringing them to make sure they once again for looser to avoid bulging.

Artistic Nudes
&
Implied Nudes

Just go Naked!

What is more natural than your birthday suits! It's not as scary as you think! It is very artistic natural and beautiful.

There are ways to be more conservative with sheets and or blankets if you choose to have partials showing

Every body is beautiful and deserves to be showcased.

Best For: Everyone

